Utah Business and Digital iQ Announce IQ Award Finalists

by PR or Business News Wire, Jan 2008

Utah Business and Wasatch Digital iQ are pleased to announce the finalists of the IQ Awards, an annual innovation recognition program that highlights the most exciting and innovative products, processes and procedures coming out of Utah's bright minds.

These exceptional companies are pioneering a space in their industries – or creating a whole new one. Join us in saluting the innovations that will change the way the world lives, thinks and works.

"Utah has widely been known as a center for entrepreneurship and innovation," said Martin Lewis, publisher of Utah Business and Digital iQ. "Each of the finalist companies is breaking boundaries and developing products and processes that were unimaginable a few years ago. They really are unbelievable."

The finalists will be featured in the February 2008 issue of Utah Business and award recipients will be announced at a luncheon sponsored by the law firm Kirton & McConkie on January 31. For more information or to register for the event, please visit <http://events.utahbusiness.com>. Sponsorships are also available at varying levels. Call Bob Sturges at 568-0114 for more information.
